

Can Electricity's Negative Energy Be Transformed Into Blessings?

■ Chiu-Nan Lai, Ph.D.

*"Dear God (or however you address the Divine).
Please bless this device and the energies radiating from it.
To bring healing and balance to the complete beings of all who enter this space, physically, emotionally, mentally, and spiritually. Thank you. Amen."*

On May 11 2015, 190 scientists from 39 countries jointly appealed to the Secretary-General of the United Nations, World Health Organization and all United Nations member states, requesting that they adopt protective measures against electromagnetic waves and microwaves. These scientists are experts specializing in biological and health effects of electromagnetic waves.

They have published scientific reports and have appealed to world organisations to protect people, plants and animals. They pointed to mobile phones, cell towers, cordless phones, wireless internet access (WI-FI), radio stations, television stations, wireless smart meters and baby monitors as sources of harmful waves.

In addition, they petitioned to establish white-zones (radiation-free areas).

A letter of support for the appeal, signed by 92 non-governmental organisations from 21 countries, has also been sent to the United Nations and the World Health Organization.

Many experts around the world have given warnings and petitions. Influential people should do their best to lessen the serious harm of current electromagnetic waves and microwaves. If nothing is done, living on Earth will become increasingly difficult, and the lives of future generations will also be endangered.

Among the people I know, there are some who have nowhere safe to live, and even almost lost their life. Even when they retreat to smaller cities, they are still harmed by the microwaves and electromagnetic waves emitted by the next-door neighbours.

We hear of many examples of mental problems, even suicides. Most people do not connect these problems with microwaves. In fact, microwaves, electromagnetic waves can affect brain waves, and close or reverse the spinning of chakras. Human emotions and thoughts would be affected and their mental state may become abnormal. In the early days, it was reported that depression and suicide rates have risen when the city began to have cell phone towers. Now these incidents are so common that we may actually know some of the sufferers, who could even be our family members.

All these years, I have constantly introduced anti-electromagnetic wave and anti-microwave methods. Although we are generally unable to use equipment to test out the effectiveness of these techniques, many who have tried these approaches found them somewhat helpful. The reason I always remind others to protect themselves against electromagnetic waves and microwaves is that personally, thirty years ago, I was harmed by electromagnetic waves. When computers became more common, I was unable to use computer. Later, only after I learned of some protection methods was I able to start using computer. However, the harm from microwaves began twenty years ago. For a very long time, I was unable to go to big cities. When cell towers were installed in the city that I was living in, I almost could not survive. I slept in a microwave-proof silver thread tent. I had tried many of the protections sold in the market, but I still did not feel well. Once, I went to visit a High Lama. When I was taking leave, he started to place sacred objects into a Buddha statue without saying a word. I knew in my heart that this Buddha statue was to save my life. After I returned home, I placed the statue at the spot where I usually sit - next to the dining table, the place where I used to write my articles. Amazingly, as long as I was close to the statue, I felt well. And then I had confidence that I could survive. Since then, anti-electromagnetic wave and microwave methods and objects have constantly presented to me and I have also continually shared them with readers. Many people told me that these methods and protections were of great help. However, because electromagnetic waves and microwaves are getting stronger and stronger in the environment, methods previously introduced no longer suffice.

Recently I saw an article written by someone who knew about dowsing. The topic was very interesting: I Love EMFs! The author found that by merely praying to God to bless the electronic device and transform the energy radiating from that device to be beneficial, it can change the detrimental effect of the electronic device. The prayer is concluded with 'AMEN'. When holding a mobile phone, the strength of an ordinary person normally would weaken, but after blessing the mobile phone, the person's strength did not weaken.

I was inspired after reading this article. I visualize Avalokitesvara (or Guan-Yin or Goddess of Mercy) transforming into light, streaming into my computer, cell towers, power supplies, satellites from outer space, etc. And I conclude with "OM AH HUM".

When I walk into a crowd, I bless the mobile phones of each individual. You may wish to use your own method to bless electronic appliances. Pray to the Divine to bless the energies emitting from mobile phones and electronic devices to be beneficial to lives.

In the early twentieth century, Dr Steiner predicted that mankind will be harmed by "electricity" in the late twentieth century. He told his students to do research and development on using peat moss to make clothes and weaving peat moss into sweaters and blankets to protect against electromagnetic waves. He said electricity is used by negative forces to interfere with the spiritual growth of human beings. During this time, human should be experiencing rapid spiritual growth. Dr Steiner predicted that the harm of electricity to mankind would only worsen. The damage caused by these new electrical appliances would be increasingly lethal and progressively more. Only by enhancing spirituality can we prevent electrical harm. We might have come to the end of the road that such useful and desperately needed protection methods appeared.

Those who wish to help protect their own environment and all lives could experiment with this method and also share it with others. No matter where we go, anywhere and anytime we could improve on what we encounter and what we think, by transforming the electromagnetic waves and microwaves into beneficial waves.

Methods Highlight:

Example 1: Infinite and perfect love (agape) of the universe, please bless this mobile phone so that the waves emitted are beneficial to all lives. OM AH HUM.

Example 2: Dear Merciful and Compassionate Guan-Yin Bodhisattva, please sanctify this mobile phone so that the waves unleashed from it are beneficial to all lives. OM AH HUM.

Example 3: Dear Jesus Christ, our Saviour, please fill this phone with lovingkindness so that all waves radiated from it are beneficial to all lives. AMEN.

Example 4: Dear, please bless the waves emanating from all home electronic appliances to be beneficial to all lives.

Example 5: Dear, please bless the waves transmitting from all cell towers to be beneficial to all lives.

Visualisation method:

Example 1: Visualize Guan-Yin transforming into light and dissolving into computers (mobile phones, cell towers, etc.), and then say "OM AH HUM".

One can visualize one's dearest precious Buddha, God, Virgin Mary, Jesus Christ, and so on, transforming into light and entering the electronic devices. Then say "OM AH HUM" or "AMEN".

foot note: The blessings need to be done regularly. Once is not enough.
